Product Update: New Cable Manufacturer Added for IntelliTouch® SAW Touch Screen Products

Product Information

While we make every effort to minimize product changes, they are needed from time to time. To help support the stable supply of our IntelliTouch® SAW Touch Screen products, Elo is adding an additional cable manufacturer for both wire and flat type cables.

Elo has completed all testing, resulting in no impact to function, form factor, lifetime or product outline. With no design or material modification to the cable, this change will be implemented with a revision roll up on all effected products.

Test Summary

Cosmetic inspection: PASS - The appearance of the cable from the new supplier is the same as the current one.

Material composition: PASS - Materials used on current and new cable are made to the same specification.
